FRANCE BEGINS HER CAMPAIGN TO FORCE GERMANS PAY DEBTS

Notifies All Banks In Alsace-Lorraine Not to Send Money to Germany Till Notified.

PAYMENT DUE 15th

Paris, France, Aug. 5.—Measures of retaliation against Germany for failure to pay $10,000,000 in pre-war agreements were taken at noon today when the government ordered banks in Alsace-Lorraine to cease payment of demands made on them by Germany. Threats to operate the mines and make the disputed territory an autonomy state have not materialized. The installment on the debt is due August 15th and Germany was given until noon today to state whether or not the obligation will be met.

Two Thousand Wreaths Tribute Of Friends To Senator William Crow

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 5.—Two truckloads of flowers sent by President Harding and members of the House and Senate, reached here today for the funeral of the late Senator William E. Crow, which will be held this afternoon. Floral tributes already received included nearly two thousand wreaths, all of which were sent to the Crow summer home at Chalk Hill, where the Senator died Wednesday. Governor Spruiell, member of the Senate-House Committee appointed to attend the funeral and other notables were to arrive by noon. Following the funeral services the funeral procession will form on the national pike and begin the procession to Oak Grove Cemetery at Uniontown. It is expected that thousands of persons will be present to view the procession and arrangements have been made for guards to be on hand to keep the route clear.

Local Commercial Club Will Entertain The Philipsburg Club

The regular meeting of the Club will be held Monday, August 7th at 6:15 P. M.
The Entertainment Committee wish it announced that this will be a joint meeting between the Clearfield and Philipsburg Commercial Clubs. They ask that every member be in attendance.
The place of meeting is the High School Gym. Floor. Please bear this in mind.

Miss Kathryn McKendrick of Kittanning is the guest of her aunt Mrs. Russell Snively over the week end.

THIS DAD HAD A GREAT GENEROUS STREAK ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON; COST HIM $16.00; NOW DAD IS WISER

A Second Street professional man had a "y" put over on him last Thursday afternoon by his two boys with the assistance of an obliging hardware clerk whose kind heart caused him to break the rules about Thursday closing.

The aforesaid dad had been pestered to distraction recently by the young hopefuls who thought they could not properly progress through this particular period of life without a new coaster wagon of a particularly beautiful and costly type. On Thursday afternoon the boys renewed their plea, whereupon generous hearted dad, thinking he would put one over on the boys) told them to go up to the hardware store, that he was feeling in fine humor and just in that particular hour was feeling prosperous. The boys were admonished, however, that if it were any other afternoon, permission would most surely be withheld.

The march started for the hardware store, double quick time, where the boys found one of those rare articles in the clerk line who does not work with his one eye on the clock. The boys rattled the door and the obliging clerk, mindful of his own youth, fixed the boys up, not with one wagon, but one for each.

The bill was $16 and dad is wiser.

Luck, not good management, is to be thanked that fatalities did not occur in any of the three automobile accidents on the Clearfield to Curwensville road yesterday afternoon and evening.

Fate decreed that no innocent pedestrian nor more careful drivers of cars were to be in the path of the two cars which ran wild yesterday evening.
The possibilities of bodily injury, even death, to the traveling public, both on vehicle and foot, in all three of the accidents, if such they can be called, were numerous.

This chain of wrecks, all within a period of half a day and a distance of five miles, shows conclusively that the safety of the traveling public is endangered. Isn't it time for drastic action?
True, in the accidents occurring during the evening, no one but the occupants of the cars wrecked were hurt, but that is not as it might have been, and easily could have been; more than likely will be the next time. No private citizen, therefore, feels like making the necessary charges which would lead to an investigation of the allegations being freely made about town today as to the real cause of the accidents.

There is sufficient justification, in what is being said on the streets about these accidents, to warrant the District Attorney in inquiring into every one of them, with a view to finding out whether various and sundry laws are being violated or whether these accident victims are innocent of the claim being made about speeding, reckless driving, incompetent drivers and intoxication.

NEWS FROM THE STRIKE ZONES

RAIL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—Threat of absolute paralysis of industry in the country hangs over the railroad strike situation. Administration officials admitted today after a thorough study of the telegram sent by the chiefs of the big railroad brotherhoods asking for a conference with President Harding. Disturbing significance was attached to the following paragraph of the telegram: "We fear that a continuation of these conditions will inevitably result in our members, as a matter of self protection, being drawn into the controversy and we greatly deplore such a contingency." "These conditions" include the danger to the safety of the brotherhood members through deterioration of locomotives, violation of safety statutes and rules, refusal of the railroad executives to accept the Harding proposal and the "plain intention" of the railroads to crush the shopcrafts unions, the telegram enumerated.

M. of W. Head Will Keep Agreement
Chicago, Ill., Aug. 5.—President E. F. Grable, of the Maintenance of Way union, intends to abide by his agreement with the United States Rail Labor Board and will not call a strike, he declared on his arrival here today. I receive many telegrams every day urging me to call a strike at once, Grable said.

COAL

—Illinois Operators Refuse Lewis' Invitation

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Illinois coal operators, meeting here today, refused to attend the meeting of the union officials and operators called for Cleveland next Monday by President Lewis but submitted a proposal to Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois union, which, if accepted, would result in reopening of the Illinois mines.
"According to and being governed by the request of the President of the United States," the proposal to Mr. Farrington said, "we are at once prepared to open our mines for work, paying the wage scale in effect at the expiration of our last contract. And to avoid further possible disruption of coal production this fall and winter, when the coal supply will be dangerously short, even under the best conditions, we will agree that the old scale shall remain effective until March 31, 1923."

—Freeport Vein Refuses Also—
Pittsburgh, Aug. 4.—President John Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, was formally notified today by the Freeport Vein Operators Association that the organization was willing to discuss strike settlement problems with district representatives of the union miners, but it would not attend the four state conference at Cleveland.

—Farrington's Statement—
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 4.—Acceptance of the peace proposal made to Illinois miners by operators of this State will depend on what action is taken at the mine operators conference in Cleveland Monday, Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois union declared today. The Illinois peace proposal was delivered to him by the operators yesterday. The Cleveland meeting was called by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and looks toward a settlement of the entire strike.

—Indiana Starts Mine—
Brazil, Ind., Aug. 4.—The test of State operations of coal mines under military law came today. A force of miners started digging in two strip mines near here while eight hundred National Guardsmen stood by to prevent interference. Three hundred tons of coal will go out today, the representatives of the State Coal Emergency Committee stated. Coal will be rushed to the canning factories, state institutions and private industries.

DODGE HOPS OFF ROAD; CRISSMAN CAR IS WRECKED

Cliff Cowdrick, Riding

tient at Hospital. Green

TIME FOR A HALT

Yesterday did not happen to be Friday, the 13th, but it sure was hoodoo for reckless and careless automobile drivers on the river road between Clearfield and Curwensville, as no less than three different accidents happened on the six mile stretch during the afternoon between the two towns. In fact conditions are getting so serious along this speedway that the property owners contemplate the erection of a stone or concrete guard wall along their property lines adjoining the street or roadway in order to prevent automobile drivers from shooting off the street, into the house and upsetting the dinner table.

Shortly after the accident which made almost a complete ruin of John Arnold's front porch, an automobile occupied by two Curwensville men whose names we were unable to learn ambled down the ban hand upset into Reed's field near Dr. Heichhold's "Grand View Cabin". The car turned over but the occupants clambered out of the wreckage practically unhurt.

B. J. Crissman's Car Wrecked.

About 6 o'clock last evening, B. J. Crissman, Cliff Cowdrick, Elton and A. T. Ireland, coming down from Curwensville in Crissman's car failed to make the curve at the grade crossing just below the New York Central railroad bridge across the river at the lower end of Curwensville borough and all four men were generally cut up and bruised by the resultant wreck.

off as though it was a pipe stem; the machine careened down the bank onto the railroad track and after bumping along over the ties for a short distance upset into the ditch.

Passing automobilists were quickly at the scene and proceeded to dig the occupants of the car out from under the wreckage. Cliff Cowdrick was the most seriously injured of the quartette. He received a bad cut across the back of the neck and side of the face while the upper half of his ear was cut or torn off and it was feared he had also suffered internal injuries as he was wedged under the car.

Elton Ireland had the ligaments in his right wrist torn and lacerated with other bumps and bruises. A. T. Ireland also got off with minor cuts and bruises while Crissman came out of the fray with a cut over the eye.

The injured men were taken to the Clearfield Hospital where their injuries were given medical attention. With the exception of Cowdrick all were able to leave the hospital after their wounds were dressed.

PLAN TO UNSEX LITERATURE IS AIM OF SOCIETY

New York, Aug. 5.—A campaign to unsex literature was started here today when representatives of the New York Society for the suppression of vice were called upon to "blue pencil" modern fiction in its proof sheet. The Club of censorship may be whacked down on the writers who produce the highly colored brand of literature which is filling a large number of our present day magazines if the plea of John S. Sumner, secretary of the society is adopted. This society is considering a movement looking toward a dictatorship of all literature, similar to the dictatorships in effect in baseball, the movies and other large movements.

FINE GIFT GIVEN REV. C. E. COOK BY PRESBYTERIANS

During the illness and absence of Rev. E. C. Reeve the Presbyterian Church has found it necessary to draft Rev. C. E. Cook, recently resigned Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. into service into the pulpit and the genial secretary always responded willingly. In like manner he has given his services to the Sunday School, both in teaching the Bible class and leading the singing.

Last Sunday Mr. Cook came back to town like everybody else does who ever lived in this grand old town, to spend the day with old friends and the officials of the church hastily hurried.

FIRST COMMANDER OF LEGION TO PUT BIG FAIR ACROSS

Colonel Franklin D'Olier, world war veteran, first national commander of the American Legion and noted business and industrial leader of Philadelphia was elected president of the Sesqui-Centennial Exhibition Association yesterday.

As president Colonel D'Olier who is 45 years old will assume supreme command in planning the international exhibition to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Recommended by the "steering" committee of seven headed by Thomas Robbins, Colonel D'Olier was unanimously appointed at a meeting of the board of directors in the Bellevue-Stratford.

Colonel D'Olier is now in Jefferson N. H., with his family, having gone there several days ago. He was selected after he had given his acceptance. "You were elected president of the sesquicentennial with universal approbation," was the message wired to him after the action of the directors. Colonel D'Olier is expected back in a week or ten days to arrange his

BOOK BY LOCAL AUTHORS WILL BE INTERESTING

The autumn catalogue carrying the offerings of the well known publishers, Henry Holt and Company of New York City, should be of especial interest to Clearfield County people. This publishing house specializes in high class fiction and that they do not go in for everything is shown by the listing of only about fifteen novels for this winter's reading. Among them is "The Island God Forgot" by Charles B. Stilson, of Winburne, Pa., and Charles Beahan, of Clearfield, Pa. In commenting on the offering the critic who reviewed the story says:

"There is no doubt that 'Tales' have again returned. Romance is again in the air.

One publisher's reader's report on the manuscript of this book declared: "Some reviewer is bound to say that it is the best thing of its kind since 'Treasure Island,' and he won't be very far out of the way at that.

There is a villain who is unique, as weird and fascinating figure almost as Conrad's 'nigger.' And a woman whose like is far to seek in fiction.

A yarn, this, of mutiny on the high seas, of piracy, of sunken treasure, of dead men's bones, of dreadful raciality and romantic love, of far eastern ports, San Francisco before the fire, life on a freighter, Malay natives racing airplanes, rough seafaring men and sporting 'aces'.

Romance is brought down to date by an airplane race across the Pacific which most dramatically holds up an extraordinary marriage on an island not on the maps.

The book is an adventure story with a rich and glittering style. The price $1.90."

THIRD AND FOURTH WARDS FREE FROM ALL CONTAGION

Old Demon Disease was entirely circumvented by Health Secretary Gaulin during the past week, the Argus-eyed guardian of the public health succeeding in getting through the week without allowing the outbreak of a single case of communicable disease. During the same period two casks were released from quarantine.

There are at present under quarantine in the town just 13 cases of contagious diseases. They are as follows:

First Ward—Whooping cough, 7.
Second Ward—Diphtheria, 1; scarlet fever, 1; whooping cough, 4.
The Third and Fourth Wards are still hitting 1000 in the Health League as not a single case of contagion is chalked up against either ward.

WALKER STORE IS VISITED BY MEN WHO LOVE SMOKES

The F. A. Walker Grocery Store, located in the Schiefer building on Nichols Street, at the West End of the Second Street bridge, was burglarized some time after 12 o'clock last night.

A quantity of cigars, cigarettes and tobacco was taken.

The robbers gained entrance to the rear of the store by prying up a window on the side of the warehouse.

The stolen articles so far as known were five hundred Havana Ribbon cigars, 200 cigarettes and about twenty five packages of chewing gum.

The robbery was discovered when the store was opened for business this morning. Chief of Police McMullen was notified and at once began an investigation. The robbery occurred some time after midnight as Charles Shugarts closed his restaurant at 12 o'clock and his survey before leaving for home showed that everything was alright in the block at that time.

business affairs and then plunge into active work for the world's fair.

The docks were cleared for the newly elected president to take full control and build up his own organization at a meeting of the board. A "skeleton" organization that had been approved last June was scrapped. It was an organization providing for several vice presidents and other officers, but based on the recommendation of the board.

Colonel D'Oher is given practically unlimited authority to create a new organization.

The selection of Colonel D'Oher as chairman of the board is expected to bring the great world's fair ever held, met with approval throughout the city. It was taken as a tribute to the organization genius of the man and a response to a call for decisive action to save the fair from financial disaster.

"D'Oher is the man to put the fair over," Colonel D'Oher is a man who had achieved success in business, his remarkable ability in organizing the sale of the fair, and the A. E. F. and his aptitude for doing other big things.

"He just 100 per cent American and he will stand as the essence of the 1926 security movement," said one of the directors who picked him.

D'Oher has announced he will accept no salary.

Historic Dodo.

"As dead as a dodo" is a common expression but how many know what manner of bird a dodo was or what drove it from the face of the earth? The dodo was a large bird, with a huge beak and a small head. It was Portuguese and Dutch sailors found on the island of Mauritius in the Indian ocean during the sixteenth century. It was so stupid that the Portuguese named it "dodo," similitude. Pigs introduced into the island by the Europeans destroyed the eggs and young, and it became extinct in the seventeenth century.

Greatly Interested.

"The natives of Jamaica are one of the most interested in the world," reported a prominent Bradford (Pa.) business man, after a stay in Montego Bay, Jamaica, B. W. I. "They can carry large cans of milk from mountain ranges to markets on their heads, and never even move the cans as they sell and pour out the milk. They go up stairs and down, and are so light that when they start up a flight they can begin to fill their pitchers measuring the amount by the number of steps taken. I watched them many times with great interest and delight."

Washing Brushes.

Brushes should never be washed in hot water. It makes the bristles soft. Put them in a quart of lukewarm water into which two tablespoons of ammonia have been put. Let them remain for half an hour, and then rinse them in cold water, and hang them up, brush down to dry.

Refinements Added To Ford Enclosed Cars

Demand Exceeds Supply As Rush Season Approaches.

Many added conveniences and refinements are to be seen in the Ford enclosed cars now being displayed by the local Ford dealers.

The interior of both the coupe and the sedan is now finished in an attractive shade of walnut brown broadcloth, and the seats are upholstered with a similar material threaded with chalked ebony-stripe. Heavy floor rugs give an added touch of comfort. Lifts, of a special design, minimize the efforts of raising or lowering the windows. Door bumpers insure a tighter fitting, and new door grips, both in side and out, add to the rider's convenience.

The demand for Ford enclosed cars has been unusually high during the past two months. Although production has been speeded up in the Ford factory at Detroit, sales continue to exceed the output, making it necessary for purchasers in many parts of the country to wait for their cars. Local dealers say this is the reason they have been urging customers to place their orders as early as possible.

The Methodist Sabbath school of Woodland held their picnic in the Mineral Springs Park on Thursday of this week. Quite a crowd enjoyed the outing which was one of a whole round of real fellowship. The Woodland Cornet Band furnished the music for the occasion. This band is fast rounding into shape as the equal to any in these parts. Eats were in abundance. The patrons of the school contributed of "good things" which were all placed together, one great factor alone to the success of the outing. Everything was free even to the ice cream. LESSON FOR AUGUST 6

THE TEMPLE REBUILT AND DEDICATED

LESSON TEXT—Ezra 3:1-13
GOLDEN TEXT—My soul longeth, yea,
even fainteth for the courts of the Lord.
—Psalm 84:2.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Haggai 1:
1-23, Isaiah 62, Rev. 21:1-23.
HIMNARY TOPIC—Joyfully Building
God's House.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Rebuilding the Temple.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
—Love for God's House
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
—What God's House Should Mean to a Community.

After becoming settled in the towns surrounding Jerusalem the people were called together for the purpose of reestablishing the worship of the Lord God. The leaders in this movement were Joshua the priest and Zerubbabel the governor. In view of the fact that the clearing away of the debris of the old city and temple and the erection of the new temple would take a long time, an altar was erected where sacrifice might be offered at once unto God.

I. The Foundation of the Temple
Laid (3:8-13).

This was an auspicious occasion and was celebrated with most impressive ceremonies. It marked an epoch in the history of the nation. It brought to vividly to them their bitter experiences in the dark past, and yet pointed them forward to the time of blessing when God's favor would be upon them again.

1. The priests in their apparel (v. 10).
In Exodus 39 the priestly garments are described. These garments symbolized their consecration to the Lord's service.

2. The priests with trumpets (v. 10).
These trumpets were of silver and were used in calling the people together.

3. The Levites with cymbals (v. 10).
These were to furnish the instrumental music of the sanctuary. This was according to the arrangement made by David (1 Chron. 15:16-21).

4. They sang together by course
(v. 11). This means that they sang to one another responsively. The one company sang, "The Lord is Good";
the other responded, "For His mercy
endureth forever."

5. Mingled weeping and shouting
(vv. 12-13). Some of the older men who had seen the magnificent and glorious temple of Solomon, which had been destroyed, wept much when they saw how far short the present foundation came of the former temple. Others were glad of the favor of God which had brought them back and that a beginning had been made in the new house of worship.

II. The Building of the Temple Hindered (Ch. 4).

The three perils which put back the building of the temple for some fourteen years reveal the persistent method which the enemy uses to hinder
the constructive building programs of God's people in every age.

1. An unintelligent pessimism (3:12).
It was no credit to "priests, Levites and chief of the fathers" to mar this glorious occasion with weeping. Under the circumstances this was a glorious beginning and gave promise of great things for the future. God's promises looked to the future when even greater glories should be to the chosen people than ever had been enjoyed in the days of Solomon. Many today, because things are not quite what they should be, do not go forward with a constructive program, and even hinder those who have the hopeful outlook.

2. Worldly compromise (4:2, 3). "Let us build with you, for we seek your God." This is Satan's most common and effective method today. May the courageous Zerubbabels declare anew,
"Ye have nothing to do with us to build an house unto our God."

3. Open opposition by the world (4:4-24). When refused a part in the work, open and violent opposition was resorted to. Intimidation and political scheming were used to defeat the building plan of God's people.

III. The Temple Finished (5:1-15).
Through the ministry of the prophets, Haggai and Zechariah, the peo-work of building the temple. They wrought with energy and enthusiasm.

IV. The Temple Dedicated (5:16-22).
The people were united in this build-

God. It was a joyous occasion and they united in the observance of the passover with gratitude to God that He had strengthened their hands in their work.

Bridge, near McClellandtown, were frustrated by railroad police early today. Over twenty shots were fired by the guards who put the dynamiters to flight. Guards on all bridges have been increased following the dynamiting of two railroad bridges within a week. Coal mined by non-union labor is being transported over these bridges.

—Wounded in Gun Battle—

Washington, Pa., Aug. 5.—William
Wright, aged 46, was probably fatally wounded early today in a gun battle with deputy sheriffs guarding the Rich Hill mine near here. Wright, who was armed with two revolvers, a bread knife, a mask and a jimmy, opened fire on the deputies, wounding Deputy Sheriff Robert G. Kirchner.

—High Prices Over—

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—Profiteering in coal has virtually been eliminated by the Government's governing agencies, Secretary Hoover announced today. This means that despite the coal famine and the rush
for gathering fuel excessive prices do not prevail. In fact the governing machinery set up by the Government has been 95 per cent effective, Hoover said. Through the Presidential distribution committee and with the aid of the priority orders issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission all profiteering in coal at the source has been eliminated. Western Kentucky
district which offered the most flagrant violations of the price agreements have been brought into line
as have nearly all other mining districts where exorbitant prices were being demanded.

CHICAGO CAR STRIKE IS SETTLED

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 5.—Chicago will ride to work Monday. Settlement of the city's greatest street car and elevated strike was virtually assured when union officials ordered a referendum vote on the agreement between the strike leaders and the lines. Completion of arrangements will require two days so that the lines will not be in operation until Monday. The settlement was a victory for the union. The strike leaders agreed to accept 70c an hour and an eight hour day. The lines have held out for 65c and nine hours and the unions for 72c and eight hours.

WANTED: A NEW WONDER

The committee in charge of preliminary arrangements for Philadelphia's exhibition to celebrate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of American independence is said to be wondering what the great outstanding feature, the principal "talking point," will be. At the Centennial show in 1876 at Philadelphia the telephone, exhibited by Alexander Graham Bell, was the wonder of wonders. This simple device really attracted more interest than whole buildings full of exhibits. Strangers returned home to tell of the phenomenon and inspire in others a desire to see it for themselves. The next great exposition, held at Chicago in 1893, displayed the marvels of electric lighting. The nightly illumination of buildings and grounds and the electric fountain drew enormous crowds. The Buffalo and San Francisco expositions displayed still further advances in this art.

It is an interesting commentary on the progress made during the last few years in science and invention that there seem to be no new wonders to exploit. However, the possibilities of radio and of aviation have not yet been exhausted. Since a few years will elapse before the Philadelphia show opens its doors there is opportunity to prepare a surprise for visitors. But they cannot be expected to express any such enthusiasm as was expended over Mr. Bell's telephone. Far more wonderful inventions today evoke only the mildest curiosity and indifferent comment. The fact is, humanity is becoming thoroughly blasé. The mass has nothing to do with the discovery of twentieth century marvels and their development, but accepts them as a matter of course.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

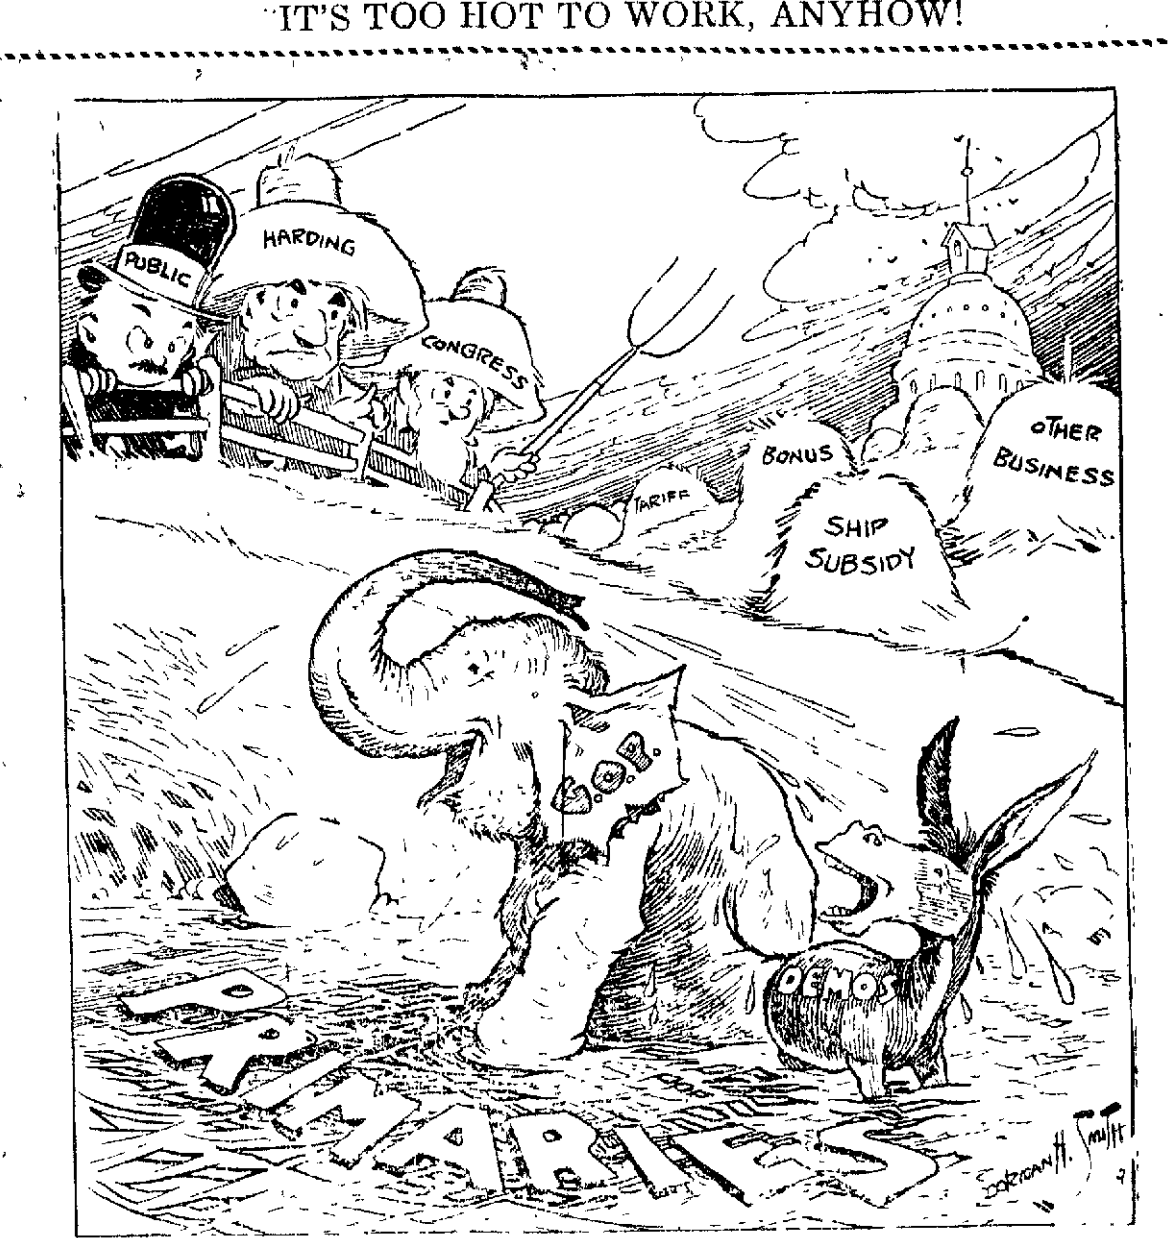

An immigration movement, which leaves Italy the only European country to send its quota to our shores, has presented a puzzle which the immigration commissioner and other students have not been able to solve. Anticipation of the framers of the new immigration law seem to have gone astray. Immigrants are no longer crowding the liners and fighting for a place in the land of promise as they once did. Reasons in explanation differ, but when all the answers are in, the condition remains.

Whatever the reason or reasons, the outflow for many months has about equaled arrivals, but the surprising fact is that immigration has fallen off almost to the vanishing point. The British quota of 15,000 has a surplus of slightly more than 13,000, and Germany sent only 910 to meet that country's privilege of 13,521. Arrivals from France, Scandinavia, Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia, former heavy contributors of new blood, are so few that they may be said to have stopped.

G. Albert Stewart, Editor,
Clearfield Progress
Dear Sir:
The Penn-Central News is a labor paper circulating in all of District No. 2 and parts of the Pittsburgh and Hard Coal Districts.
The action of Governor Sprout in sending troops into the strike affected Districts has met with strong condemnation on the part of the miner's officials of this State. We have received inquiries concerning your views on this action of Governor Sprout.
We would be glad to have an expression from you. Do you approve or disapprove of Governor Sprout's action?
Yours truly,
PENN-CENTRAL NEWS
T. D. STILES, Editor

The Progress is glad to respond to your inquiry. The use of troops, constables or any armed body of men in strikes is undesirable and unfortunate. It is just as unfortunate and undesirable that there are in any sizable community, men who are easily inflamed and aroused to rash action, whose action must be curbed by lawful peace violence. So have we. It is our understanding that the troops are there to keep these few in line with your officer's admonition to keep the peace and obey the authorities.

Read Governor Sprout's answer to Mr. Brophy again. We reprint it here with. It seems to us to be a good argument for the use of troops.

"Answering your telegrams, there is no desire or intention upon the part of the state authorities to interfere with or work any hardship upon well meaning citizens. However, I must reiterate my declaration that assemblages in neighborhoods where there is great public excitement are dangerous. An assemblage at Avella, Washington county, Pennsylvania, preceded the movement upon Clifton W. Va., which resulted in the killing of seven men and the injury of many more. An assemblage at Herrin, Ill. preceded the awful butchery there of more than a score of men in the most disgraceful instances of mob savagery in modern annals.

"No good citizen of Pennsylvania went to take any chances upon such events in this state and you and I cannot afford to do otherwise than to meet every power we possess to forestall such danger here. The question of meetings must be largely left to the discretion of the state and local authorities in the immediate vicinity who can best judge of the conditions prevailing. We shall support them in their decisions."

We further believe that the presence of the troops will prevent these noise makers from striking the match which may make another Herrin or another Clifton, and that the stamping out of such outrages, through the cooperation of the striking miners with the troops, will do much to prove to the public at large that the great mass of miners are peaceful and law abiding, statements to the contrary notwithstanding.

Naturally there is going to be unpleasantness. Neither miner or trooper, nor any other man for that matter, is going to piously "turn the other cheek" when epithets and names are hurled by thoughtless persons. Occasionally there is a trooper who thinks that the uniform adds a couple of hundred weight to his importance and he breeds trouble, but these are individual faults, and not the result of the purpose or intent of the state and national authorities in sending troops into the coal fields.

The Progress hopes that there will be no occasion for the P. N. G. to go into action and there should not be. No rule they have laid down, that we have heard of, in any manner jeopardizes the cause of the strikers, and we hope that at the end of the strike it may be said of the troops; "they were not needed."

The Census in 3800 B. C.

While priding ourselves upon our census system it may be well to remember that census taking it no new thing. The first count of British heads took place in 1801, after long opposition based on superstition. The Romans looked upon it as a regular institution. But it is now found that Babylonians took a census before 3800 B. C., which was perfected, and returns made by districts, in 2300 B. C. Fragments of the returns in the second dynasty of Ur are on tablets in the British Museum—From the Smithsonian.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The Literary Digest poll on the question of enforcement, non-enforcement and modification of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act appears to establish the fact there are a lot of fellows in the land who would prefer to see some "reduction downward" of the dry law, but have you noticed how many "wet" candidates for Congress, U. S. Senate and State Legislatures are falling outside the bracket works as fast as the voters get a crack at them.

Judging by the report coming from every section of Clearfield County, that we need more than any other me thing just now is a few more Burgess Henry's scattered around and about our highway.

There is more improved road being built in Clearfield County just now than in any other county in Central Pennsylvania.

Clearfield County farmer's report about a 75 per cent apple crop for this year.

About ten per cent of all children have adenoids of a degree sufficient to interfere with free breathing through the nose.

Owing to their position and structure, adenoids do harm by sending poisonous material into the system when they are infected which is frequently the case, and by mechanically interfering with the free passage of air through the nose.

One of the best results of the growth of adenoids is mouth breathing. The air breathed in reaches the lungs in an unpurified, unwarmed and dry condition. The child cannot blow his nose properly, suffers from repeated colds, or is annoyed by chronic nasal catarrh.

The voice is affected, becoming hoarse and muffled. The child may have "night terrors." Snoring is induced and interferes greatly with the night rest because of the inability of the child to breathe freely while sleeping. On account of the development of the chronic nasal catarrh, adenoids may lead to the loss of the sense of smell.

Sometimes the disease spreads from the infection of the adenoids and causes inflammation of the inner ear and deafness. Children are often made intermittently deaf by congested and swollen adenoids. This condition is responsible for many street accidents. Since the inability to hear is not constant and the deafness occurs at times suddenly, the child fails to notice approaching vehicles and is injured.

Acting mechanically adenoids cause a broadening of the root of the nose and other unpleasant facial expression, such as a stupid look. The jaws and teeth are likely to become malformed, causing not only facial unsightliness but chronic indigestion and malnutrition.

In all cases of ear trouble, an examination should be made for adenoids.

"The Blues."

This phrase, descriptive of moods of depression or melancholy, has an interesting origin. It was formerly believed that working with indigo dyes caused fits of melancholy, as the chemical worked on the system through the skin. As the dyes were nearly always stained blue in parts of their bodies, the phrase came into current use to express low spirits or moodiness.

GOSHEN SPORTSMEN ENTERTAIN LADIES IN ROYAL FASHION

The members of the Goshen Rod and Gun Club entertained their wives and a few invited guests at the handsomely appointed club house on the 1186 acre hunting reserve at the foot of the mountains.

Sixty ypersons were present and enjoyed to the limit the elegant chicken dinner prepared and served by a committee of members composed of Hobart Callahan, Fred Wilson and Joe Chase. These excellent chefs had feed enough for a regiment prepared in a most appetizing manner, the excellence of the fare and service being very highly complimented by the women, who ought to know about those things. At the conclusion of the feast, the tables were cleared away and "Ole Bull" Herdman, the King fiddler of the upper reaches of the Moshannon unlimbered his fiddle. An old fashioned square dance was quickly to form and resulted in fast and furious fun for all hands for a couple of hours. Fred Wilson assisted the "old fiddler" by adding his banjo to the harmony, production.

It was a highly enjoyable occasion and added new laurels to the Goshen Club's already great reputation as entertainers.

Current Business Conditions

By GEORGE E. ROBERTS

(From the Monthly Bulletin for August issued by The National City Bank of New York)

THE leading topics of interest in the past month have been the crops and the strikes. The wheat crop is fully as large as last year, the corn crop promises to be around 3,000,000,000 bushels and other food and feed crops are good. The amount of dairy products going into storage is larger than last year. Altogether, the cost of living so far as foodstuffs are concerned promises to be on about the same basis for the coming year as for the past. The cotton crop, however, is disappointing and likely to be short of the world's needs. The tendency of clothing materials is now upward, but manufacturing costs are slightly lower than last year.

The improvement in industry has proceeded so far that the amount of enforced unemployment is scarcely more than in any time of moderate prosperity, but the pending strikes have not only stopped the earnings of the strikers but are beginning to cause unemployment and losses in other quarters. President Harding has been active in his efforts to settle both the big strikes without harsh or unusual measures. He proposed for the coal industry that the miners return to work immediately at the scale of wages being paid when the strike began, this situation to last until a public commission, to be appointed by him, could render a decision upon wages; the commission upon making a thorough investigation of the industry, looking to the development of a permanent policy for the preservation of peace and wholesome working conditions. The miners rejected the proposal. The President has also made a proposal for the settlement of the railroad strike, but at this writing the outcome is undetermined.

With these strikes in industries that are vital to the public welfare out of the way, the outlook is good for fall business, although it cannot be said that a complete and equitable readjustment of wages and prices has taken place. Industrial costs, in which fuel and transportation are leading factors, are too high for the prices of farm products and raw materials generally, and a full measure of prosperity cannot be realized while this remains the case.

It goes without saying that the strikes are a very grave menace to the public welfare. The industries cannot run without coal and transportation service. Unless a settlement is reached, industries will close down, wages will stop for millions of people, food cannot be supplied to the cities, public utilities such as waterworks will be unable to function and society will be faced with a calamity even greater than war, because women and children will suffer as much as men.

It cannot be supposed that the strikers are indifferent to the suffering thus threatened, and which affects the families of all classes alike. They must assume that their opponents will give way in order to prevent it, but there is as much obligation to protect the community on one side as on the other. Every individual and group has a responsibility to society but society ought not to be dependent upon the grace of any minority. It must have the power to protect itself.

The Common Interest in Order

One of the first conditions of civilization is that there shall be orderly methods of settling differences as they arise between members of the community, according to principles based upon equity and the common interests, instead of allowing such issues to be fought out with fists or clubs or otherwise. The appeal to force has no place in civilized society except as society itself may discipline its unruly members.

It is a condition of every game in which rivals contend that there shall be rules and authority to enforce them and decide every question that arises. Abolish the umpire and the rules, and the game disappears. If you care for the game, support the authority that maintains it.

The trouble with the strikers in these cases is not that they contend for what they believe to be their rights, but that they refuse to recognize that other rights are involved, and that all rights are entitled to a hearing together and to adjudication in an orderly manner. Moreover, the matter of first importance is that there shall be a method of settlement that does not interfere with the common services necessary to society.

When it is affirmed that the public interest must be paramount, it does not follow that individual interests are sacrificed. On the contrary individual interests are protected by the maintenance of public order. That is illustrated by the regulation of traffic in the streets of a crowded city. The regulations are a restraint upon individual freedom in the streets, but everybody goes through the streets more freely because of them. What is included in the right to strike? The right to quit work in itself is not questioned. The President has said that the Government will compel no man to work against his will. But the activities of the union coal-miners and shopmen go far beyond the peaceful abandonment of their jobs in order to better themselves elsewhere. Their actions and language show that they are engaged in an organized effort to prevent the public from having coal or transportation except upon the conditions laid down by them. Combinations of that kind among any other class of people are against the law. Labor organizations were excepted for the purpose of giving them a stronger position in dealing with employers, but it never was contemplated that they would use this power to the serious injury of the public.

Railroad Labor Act

The statement is made that the railroad companies have set the example of refusing to be bound by the decisions of the Labor Board. The facts are that the companies have taken appeals in certain cases to the courts, on the legal ground that the Board had exceeded its jurisdiction under the law. This is a class of actions frequently brought against a new administrative body, to determine authoritatively the scope of its powers. The employees have the same right to bring such actions as the companies, and in neither event is transportation suspended by such an appeal.

The provisions of the Railroad Act, which give instructions relative to the action of the Board in settling wage disputes are as follows:

In determining the justness and reasonableness of such wages and salaries or working conditions the Board shall, so far as applicable, take into consideration among other relevant circumstances:

- (1) The scales of wages paid for similar kinds of work in other industries.
- (2) The relation between wages and the cost of living.
- (3) The hazards of the employment.
- (4) The training and skill required.
- (5) The degree of responsibility.
- (6) The character and regularity of the employment; and
- (7) Inequalities of increases in the wages or of treatment, the result of previous wage orders or adjustments.

ing that all railroad unions support the striking shopmen, W. D. Roberts, Vice-President of the Maintenance of Way employees, today telegraphed E. F. Southern Railway Seeks Separate Peace

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—The conference between officials and union heads of the Southern Railway, called by the railroad with the hope of effecting a separate peace on the rail strike, has been postponed until Monday, it was announced here today. The peace negotiations scheduled to start today were put off, it was learned, upon request of union representatives who apparently wanted to await developments of President Harding's conference with Bert M. Jewell and William Johnson. The Southern Railway is offering to settle with the workers on the basis laid down by President Harding and rejected by the executives last Tuesday in New York.

—Another Guess—

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—President Harding, in his efforts to find a solution for the menacing rail strike, may suggest that the big obstacle, the question of seniority rights, be submitted to the Rail Labor Board for determination and that both executives and strikers abide by its decision. It was learned that the President has this plan under consideration and he may submit it to Bert M. Jewell, head of the shopmen, and William Johnson, head of the machinists, in conferences. Jewell, Johnson and Joseph Noonan, of the electrical workers, went into conference with President Harding at 11:30 A. M. It was announced that the Washington representatives of the big four brotherhoods had asked a conference with the President.

dent with three of the brotherhood chiefs. Should President Harding agree to this conference it would be based on the President's belief that both carriers and workers agreed to obey the decision of the Board. The executives, however, reserved the right to go into court and appeal any decision of the Board, just as the Pennsylvania Railroad Company did in regard to the decision regarding the farming out of shop work. This decision, it is believed, will cause the strikers to look with disfavor on such a proposal.

—Conferees Silent—

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—After talking three quarters of an hour with the President, Jewell and Johnson came out of the executive chambers. They declared President Harding had asked them to say nothing concerning the conference and they maintained strict silence. They may stay over in Washington until after the brotherhood representatives confer with the President this afternoon.

New York, Aug. 5.—Railroad stocks were in unprecedented demand throughout the two hours of trading on the New York Stock Exchange this morning. Chicago and Northwestern and St. Paul Common were among the stocks that reached new high ground for 1922. Corn products was also a strong issue. Financiers here believe the coal and rail strikes will both be settled next week. They are paying no attention to threats of sympathetic strikes. They believe that the strikers are beaten and claim that threats of sympathetic strikes are a usual development of waning strike situations. The Chicago street car strike has been settled as all recent strikes have been settled and the men will go back to work with a ten per cent reduction in wages.

The Wicked Crow.

According to the opinion of the British Agricultural department, the crow must be classed as a criminal. In a biography of the bird, issued by the department, it says: "Its ability to commit such misdeeds as pulling corn and stealing eggs and fruit and to get away unscathed is little short of marvellous. Much of the crow's success in life is due to co-operation, and the social instinct of the species has its highest expression in the winter roosts, which are sometimes frequented by hundreds of thousands of crows. From these roosts daily flights of many miles are made in search of food. In its destruction of insects the crow often renders good service but its vicious habit of destroying beneficial wild birds and their eggs puts it on the black list."

As Proved by History.

BUICK LINE MORE COMPLETE THAN EVER

No single season in recent years has seen so many improvements in Buick cars as the present one; and never has the Buick line been so complete.

The engine, for example, is fitted with longer pistons and connecting rods, adding to the smoothness and long wear for which the Buick engine is noted. A new rear spring suspension has been devised which is undoubtedly the highest development of the cantilever type yet achieved. The frame, the transmission, the rear axle, the brakes, the bodies and their equipment, each shows the hand of the skilled designer by some new and valuable features.

The insurance companies have rated all fourteen models as Class "A" fire risks, because of the safety of their electrical and gasoline systems and have materially reduced the theft insurance rates. This means a big saving in insurance premiums over cars not so rated; it also indicates the close attention to detail that has been paid to these Buick cars for season of 1923.

As in the case of the six-cylinder models, the Buick four-cylinder cars have been re-designed this season, not merely in the sense of giving them a new appearance, but with the object of making them better and more efficient automobiles in every department of motoring service.

These changes begin with the frame, which has been entirely re-designed, and continue through the important mechanical units of the car, from an easier and simpler method of oiling the rocker arms to an improved method of driving the speedometer.

The body is larger and roomier, with lower lines and added grace of appearance. There are new and improved fenders, top, windshield, headlights, side curtains.

There is an improved spring suspension, new upholstery, improved dash arrangement of seats, longer and lower steering column, and a number of other features that add materially to riding and driving comfort.

There is a transmission lock to prevent theft which reduces insurance rates materially. Other improvements place the Buick Fours in Class "A" as fire insurance risks, securing for the owner lower insurance rates.

These are part, and only part, of the changes that apply to all four-cylinder models. Each model has its own special improvements, because each has been re-designed as a unit.

GIVE THE KIDDIES THE BEST MILK YOU CAN FIND

They deserve the best nutriment that you can find to give them, simply because you owe it to them to make their little bodies as strong and sturdy as you can. In after years they will rise up and call you blessed because you gave them a healthful start in life.

And what better milk could you give them than our milk? It comes from cows noted for their strongly nutritive milk and then it undergoes the pasteurization process. The combination of the two makes it one of the most healthful foods you can give your kiddies and you'll find that the kiddies brought up on our milk are husky, up-and-doing chaps.

Paris, France, Aug. 5.—Measures of retaliation against Germany for failure to pay $10,000,000 in pre-war agreements were taken at noon today when the government ordered banks in Alsace-Lorraine to cease payment of demands made on them by Germany. Threats to operate the mines and make the disputed territory an autonomy state have not materialized. The installment on the debt is due August 15th and Germany was given until noon today to state whether or not the obligation will be met.

—EDITORIAL—

ISN'T IT TIME FOR DRASTIC ACTION?

Luck, not good management, is to be thanked that fatalities did not occur in any of the three automobile accidents on the Clearfield to Curwensville road yesterday afternoon and evening.

Fate decreed that no innocent pedestrian nor more careful drivers of cars were to be in the path of the two cars which ran wild yesterday evening.

The possibilities of bodily injury, even death, to the traveling public, both on vehicle and foot, in all three of the accidents, if such they can be called, were numerous.

This chain of wrecks, all within a period of half a day and a distance of five miles, shows conclusively that the safety of the traveling public is endangered. Isn't it time for drastic action?

True, in the accidents occurring during the evening, no one but the occupants of the cars wrecked were hurt, but that is not as it might have been, and easily could have been; more than likely will be the next time. No private citizen, therefore, feels like making the necessary charges which would lead to an investigation of the allegations being freely made about town today as to the real cause of the accidents.

There is sufficient justification, in what is being said on the streets about these accidents, to warrant the District Attorney in inquiring into every one of them, with a view to finding out whether various and sundry laws are being violated or whether these accident victims are innocent of the claim being made about speeding, reckless driving, incompetent drivers and intoxication.

NEWS FROM THE STRIKE ZONES

RAIL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—Threat of absolute paralysis of industry in the country hangs over the railroad strike situation. Administration officials admitted today after a thorough study of the telegram sent by the chiefs of the big railroad brotherhoods asking for a conference with President Harding. Disturbing significance was attached to the following paragraph of the telegram: "We fear that a continuation of these conditions will inevitably result in our members, as a matter of self protection, being drawn into the controversy and we greatly deplore such a contingency." "These conditions" include the danger to the safety of the brotherhood members through deterioration of locomotives, violation of safety statutes and rules, refusal of the railroad executives to accept the Harding proposal and the "plain intention" of the railroads to crush the shopcraft unions, the telegram enumerated.

M. of W. Head Will Keep Agreement
Chicago, Ill., Aug. 5.—President E. F. Grable, of the Maintenance of Way union, intends to abide by his agreement with the United States Rail Labor Board and will not call a strike, he declared on his arrival here today. COAL

—Illinois Operators Refuse Lewis' Invitation

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Illinois coal operators, meeting here today, refused to attend the meeting of the union officials and operators called for Cleveland next Monday by President Lewis but submitted a proposal to Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois union, which, if accepted, would result in reopening of the Illinois mines. "According to and being governed by the request of the President of the United States," the proposal to Mr. Farrington said, "we are at once prepared to open our mines for work, paying the wage scale in effect at the expiration of our last contract. And to avoid further possible disruption of coal production this fall and winter, when the coal supply will be dangerously short, even under the best conditions, we will agree that the old scale shall remain effective until March 31, 1923."

—Freeport Vein Refuses Also—
Pittsburgh, Aug. 4.—President John Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, was formally notified today by the Freeport Vein Operators Association that the organization was willing to discuss strike settlement problems with district representatives of the union miners, but it would not attend the four state conference at Cleveland.

—Farrington's Statement—
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 4.—Acceptance of the peace proposal made to Illinois miners by operators of this State will depend on what action is taken at the mine operators conference in Cleveland Monday, Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois union declared today. The Illinois peace proposal was delivered to him by the operators yesterday. The Cleveland meeting was called by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and looks toward a settlement of the entire strike.

—Indiana Starts Mine—

Brazil, Ind., Aug. 4.—The test of State operations of coal mines under military law came today. A force of miners started digging in two strip mines near here while eight hundred National Guardsmen stood by to prevent interference. Three hundred tons of coal will go out today, the representatives of the State Coal Emergency Committee stated. Coal will be rushed to the canning factories, state institutions and private industries.

TIME FOR A HALT

Yesterday did not happen to be Friday, the 13th, but it sure was hoodoo for reckless and careless automobile drivers on the river road between Clearfield and Curwensville, as no less than three different accidents happened on the six mile stretch during the afternoon between the two towns. In fact conditions are getting so serious along this speedway that the property owners contemplate the erection of a stone or concrete guard wall along their property lines adjoining the street or roadway in order to prevent automobile drivers from shooting off the street, into the house and upsetting the dinner table.

Shortly after the accident which made almost a complete ruin of John Arnold's front porch, an automobile occupied by two Curwensville men whose names we were unable to learn ambled down the ban hand upset into Reed's field near Dr. Heichhold's "Grand View Cabin". The car turned over but the occupants clambered out of the wreckage practically unharmed.

B. J. Crissman's Car Wrecked.

About 6 o'clock last evening, B. J. Crissman, Cliff Cowdrick, Elton and A. T. Ireland, coming down from Curwensville in Crissman's car failed to make the curve at the grade crossing just below the New York Central railroad bridge across the river at the lower end of Curwensville borough and all four men were generally cut up and bruised by the resultant wreck.

off as though it was a pipe stem; the machine careened down the bank onto the railroad track and after bumping along over the ties for a short distance upset into the ditch.

Passing automobilists were quickly at the scene and proceeded to dig the occupants of the car out from under the wreckage. Cliff Cowdrick was the most seriously injured of the quartette. He received a bad cut across the back of the neck and side of the face while the upper half of his ear was cut or torn off and it was feared he had also suffered internal injuries as he was wedged under the car.

Elton Ireland had the ligaments in his right wrist torn and lacerated with other bumps and bruises. A. T. Ireland also got off with minor cuts and bruises while Crissman came out of the fray with a cut over the eye.

The injured men were taken to the Clearfield Hospital where their injuries were given medical attention. With the exception of Cowdrick all were able to leave the hospital after their wounds were dressed.

PLAN TO UNSEX LITERATURE IS AIM OF SOCIETY

New York, Aug. 5.—A campaign to unsex literature was started here today when representatives of the New York Society for the suppression of vice were called upon to "blue pencil" modern fiction in its proof sheet. The Club of censorship may be whacked down on the writers who produce the highly colored brand of literature which is filling a large number of our present day magazines if the plea of John S. Sumner, secretary of the society is adopted. This society is considering a movement looking toward a dictatorship of all literature, similar to the dictatorships in effect in baseball, the movies and other large movements.

FIRST COMMANDER OF LEGION TO PUT BIG FAIR ACROSS

Colonel Franklin D'Olier, world war veteran, first national commander of the American Legion and noted business and industrial leader of Philadelphia was elected president of the Sesqui-Centennial Exhibition Association yesterday.

Colonel D'Olier is now in Jefferson N. H., with his family, having gone there several days ago. He was selected after he had given his acceptance.

BOOK BY LOCAL AUTHORS WILL BE INTERESTING

The autumn catalogue carrying the offerings of the well known publishers, Henry Holt and Company of New York City, should be of especial interest to Clearfield County people. This publishing house specializes in high class fiction and that they do not go in for everything is shown by the listing of only about fifteen novels for this winter's reading. Among them is "The Island God Forgot" by Charles B. Stilson, of Winburne, Pa., and Charles Beahan, of Clearfield, Pa. In commenting on the offering the critic who reviewed the story says:

"There is no doubt that 'Tales' have again returned. Romance is again in the air."

One publisher's reader's report on the manuscript of this book declared: "Some reviewer is bound to say that it is the best thing of its kind since 'Treasure Island,' and he won't be very far out of the way at that."

There is a villain who is unique, as weird and fascinating figure almost as Conrad's "nigger." And a woman whose like is far to seek in fiction.

A yarn, this, of mutiny on the high seas, of piracy, of sunken treasure, of dead men's bones, of dreadful racial and romantic love, of far eastern ports, San Francisco before the fire, life on a freighter, Malay natives racing airplanes, rough seafaring men and sporting "aces."

Romance is brought down to date by an airplane race across the Pacific which most dramatically holds up an extraordinary marriage on an island not on the maps.

The book is an adventure story with a rich and glittering style. The price $1.90."

THIRD AND FOURTH WARDS FREE FROM ALL CONTAGION

Old Demon Disease was entirely circumvented by Health Secretary Gaulin during the past week, the Argus-eyed guardian of the public health succeeding in getting through the week without allowing the outbreak of a single case of communicable disease. During the same period two casks were released from quarantine.

There are at present under quarantine in the town just 13 cases of contagious diseases. They are as follows:

First Ward—Whooping cough, 7.
Second Ward—Diphtheria, 1; scarlet fever, 1; whooping cough, 4.

The Third and Fourth Wards are still hitting 1000 in the Health League as not a single case of contagion is chalked up against either ward.

WALKER STORE IS VISITED BY MEN WHO LOVE SMOKES

The F. A. Walker Grocery Store, located in the Schiefer building on Nichols Street, at the West End of the Second Street bridge, was burglarized some time after 12 o'clock last night.

A quantity of cigars, cigarettes and tobacco was taken.

The robbers gained entrance to the rear of the store by prying up a window on the side of the warehouse.

The stolen articles so far as known were five hundred Havana Ribbon cigars, 200 cigarettes and about twenty five packages of chewing gum.

The robbery was discovered when the store was opened for business this morning. Chief of Police McMullen was notified and at once began an investigation. The robbery occurred some time after midnight as Charles Shugarts closed his restaurant at 12 o'clock and his survey before leaving for home showed that everything was alright in the block at that time.

business affairs and then plunge into active work for the world's fair. The docks were cleared for the newly elected president to take full control and build up his own organization at a meeting of the board. A "skeleton" organization that had been approved last June was scrapped. It was an organization providing for several vice presidents and other officers elected on the recommendation of the board. By yesterday's action of the board Colonel D'Olier is given practically unlimited authority to create a new organization.

The selection of Colonel D'Olier as chairman of the board is projected to be one of the greatest world fairs ever held, met with approval through out the city. It was taken as a tribute to the organization genius of the man and a response to a call for decisive action to save the world's fair from financial disaster.

"D'Olier is the man to put the fair over" said more than one person who had witnessed his success in business, his remarkable ability in organizing the salvage service of the A. E. F. and his aptitude for doing other big things.

"He is just 100 per cent American and he will stand as the essence of the 1926 security standard," said one of the directors who picked him.

D'Olier has announced he will accept no salary.

Historic Dodo.

"As dead as a dodo" is a common expression, but do you know what manner of bird the dodo was or what drove it from the face of the earth? The dodo was a large bird, with a huge beak and a less little wings. Portuguese and Dutch sailors found on the island of Mauritius in the Indian ocean during the sixteenth century. It was so stupid that the Portuguese named it "bodo," similitude Pigs introduced into the island by the Europeans destroyed the eggs and young, and it became extinct in the seventeenth century.

Greatly Interested.

"The naturalists of Jamaica are one of the wonders of the island," reported a prominent Bradford (Pa.) business man, after a stay in Montego Bay Jamaica, B. W. I. "They can carry large cans of milk from mountain ranges to markets on their heads, and never even move the cans as they sell and pour out the milk. They go upstairs and down, and are so light that when they start up a flight they can begin to fill their pitchers, measuring the amount by the number of steps taken. I watched them many times with great interest and delight."

Refinements Added To Ford Enclosed Cars

Demand Exceeds Supply As Rush Season Approaches.

Many added conveniences and refinements are to be seen in the Ford enclosed cars now being displayed by the local Ford dealers.

The interior of both the coupe and the sedan is now finished in an attractive shade of walnut brown broadcloth, and the seats are upholstered with a similar material threaded with chalked ebony-stripe. Heavy floor rugs give an added touch of comfort. Lifts, of a special design, minimize the efforts of raising or lowering the windows. Door bumpers insure a tighter fitting, and new door grips, both in side and out, add to the rider's convenience.

The demand for Ford enclosed cars has been unusually high during the past two months. Although production has been speeded up in the Ford factory at Detroit, sales continue to exceed the output, making it necessary for purchasers in many parts of the country to wait for their cars. Local dealers say this is the reason they have been urging customers to place their orders as early as possible.

The patrons of the school contributed of "good things" which were all placed together, one great factor alone to the success of the outing. Everything was free even to the ice cream. LESSON FOR AUGUST 6

THE TEMPLE REBUILT AND DEDICATED

LESSON TEXT—Ezra 3:1-13
GOLDEN TEXT—My soul longeth, yea,
even fainteth for the courts of the Lord.
—Psalm 84:2.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Haggai 1:
1-23, Isaiah 62, Rev. 21:1-23.
HIMNARY TOPIC—Joyfully Building
God's House.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Rebuilding the Temple.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
—Love for God's House
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
—What God's House Should Mean to a Community.

After becoming settled in the towns
surrounding Jerusalem the people
were called together for the purpose
of reestablishing the worship of the Lord God. The leaders in this movement were Joshua the priest and Zerubbabel the governor. In view of the fact that the clearing away of the debris of the old city and temple and
the erection of the new temple would take a long time, an altar was erected where sacrifice might be offered at once unto God.

I. The Foundation of the Temple
Laid (3:8-13).

This was an auspicious occasion and
was celebrated with most impressive ceremonies. It marked an epoch in the history of the nation. It brought to vividly to them their bitter experiences in the dark past, and yet pointed them forward to the time of blessing when God's favor would be
upon them again.

1. The priests in their apparel (v. 10).
In Exodus 39 the priestly garments are described. These garments symbolized their consecration to the Lord's service.

2. The priests with trumpets (v. 10).
These trumpets were of silver and were used in calling the people together.

3. The Levites with cymbals (v. 10).
These were to furnish the instrumental music of the sanctuary. This was according to the arrangement made by David (1 Chron. 15:16-21).

4. They sang together by course
(v. 11). This means that they sang to one another responsively. The one company sang, "The Lord is Good";
the other responded, "For His mercy
endureth forever."

5. Mingled weeping and shouting
(vv. 12-13). Some of the older men who had seen the magnificent and glorious temple of Solomon, which had been destroyed, wept much when they saw how far short the present foundation came of the former temple. Others were glad of the favor of God
which had brought them back and that a beginning had been made in the new house of worship.

II. The Building of the Temple Hin-
dered (Ch. 4).

The three perils which put back the building of the temple for some fourteen years reveal the persistent method which the enemy uses to hinder
the constructive building programs of God's people in every age.

1. An unintelligent pessimism (3:12).
It was no credit to "priests, Levites
and chief of the fathers" to mar this glorious occasion with weeping. Under the circumstances this was a glorious beginning and gave promise of great things for the future. God's promises looked to the future when even greater glories should be to the chosen people than ever had been enjoyed in the days of Solomon. Many today, because things are not quite
what they should be, do not go forward with a constructive program, and even hinder those who have the hopeful outlook.

2. Worldly compromise (4:2, 3). "Let us build with you, for we seek your God." This is Satan's most common and effective method today. May the courageous Zerubbabels declare anew,
"Ye have nothing to do with us to build an house unto our God."

3. Open opposition by the world (4:4-24). When refused a part in the work,
open and violent opposition was resorted to. Intimidation and political scheming were used to defeat the building plan of God's people.

III. The Temple Finished (5:16-15).
Through the ministry of the prophets, Haggai and Zechariah, the people were encouraged to resume the work of building the temple. They wrought with energy and enthusiasm.
How necessary are God's prophets to encourage and urge on the workers in the Lord's vineyard!

IV. The Temple Dedicated (6:16-22).
The people were united in this building and came together upon its completion and solemnly dedicated it to God. It was a joyous occasion and they united in the observance of the passover with gratitude to God that
He had strengthened their hands in their work.

The Door of the Work.
But those looketh into the perfect law of liberty and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.—James 1:25.

No Disguise Can Conceal Love.
No disguise can long conceal love where it is, nor feign it where it is not.—Rochefoucauld.

Bridge, near McClellandtown, were frustrated by railroad police early to-
day. Over twenty shots were fired by the guards who put the dynamiters
to flight. Guards on all bridges have been increased following the dynamiting of two railroad bridges within a week. Coal mined by non-union labor is being transported over these bridges.

—Wounded in Gun Battle—

Washington, Pa., Aug. 5.—William
Wright, aged 46, was probably fatally
wounded early today in a gun battle
with deputy sheriffs guarding the Rich Hill mine near here. Wright, who was armed with two revolvers, a
bread knife, a mask and a jimmy, opened fire on the deputies, wounding
Deputy Sheriff Robert G. Kirchner.

—High Prices Over—

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—Profiteering in coal has virtually been eliminated by the Government's governing agencies, Secretary Hoover announced today. This means that despite the coal famine and the rush
for gathering fuel excessive prices
do not prevail. In fact the governing machinery set up by the Government has been 95 per cent effective, Hoover said. Through the Presidential distribution committee and with the aid of the priority orders issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission all
profiteering in coal at the source has been eliminated. Western Kentucky
district which offered the most flagrant violations of the price agreements have been brought into line
as have nearly all other mining districts where exorbitant prices were being demanded.

CHICAGO CAR STRIKE IS SETTLED

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 5.—Chicago will ride to work Monday. Settlement of the city's greatest street car and elevated strike was virtually assured when union officials ordered a referendum vote on the agreement between the strike leaders and the lines. Completion of arrangements will require two days so that the lines will not be in operation until Monday. The settlement was a victory for the union. The strike leaders agreed to accept 70c an hour and an eight hour day. The lines have held out for 65c and nine hours and the unions for 72c and eight hours.

WANTED: A NEW WONDER

The committee in charge of preliminary arrangements for Philadelphia's exhibition to celebrate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of American independence is said to be wondering what the great outstanding feature, the principal "talking point," will be. At the Centennial show in 1876 at Philadelphia the telephone, exhibited by Alexander Graham Bell, was the wonder of wonders. This simple device really attracted more interest than whole buildings full of exhibits. Strangers returned home to tell of the phenomenon and inspire in others a desire to see it for themselves. The next great exposition, held at Chicago in 1893, displayed the marvels of electric lighting. The nightly illumination of buildings and grounds and the electric fountain drew enormous crowds. The Buffalo and San Francisco expositions displayed still further advances in this art.

It is an interesting commentary on the progress made during the last few years in science and invention that there seem to be no new wonders to exploit. However, the possibilities of radio and of aviation have not yet been exhausted. Since a few years will elapse before the Philadelphia show opens its doors there is opportunity to prepare a surprise for visitors. But they cannot be expected to express any such enthusiasm as was expended over Mr. Bell's telephone. Far more wonderful inventions today evoke only the mildest curiosity and indifferent comment. The fact is, humanity is becoming thoroughly blasé. The mass has nothing to do with the discovery of twentieth century marvels and their development, but accepts them as a matter of course.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

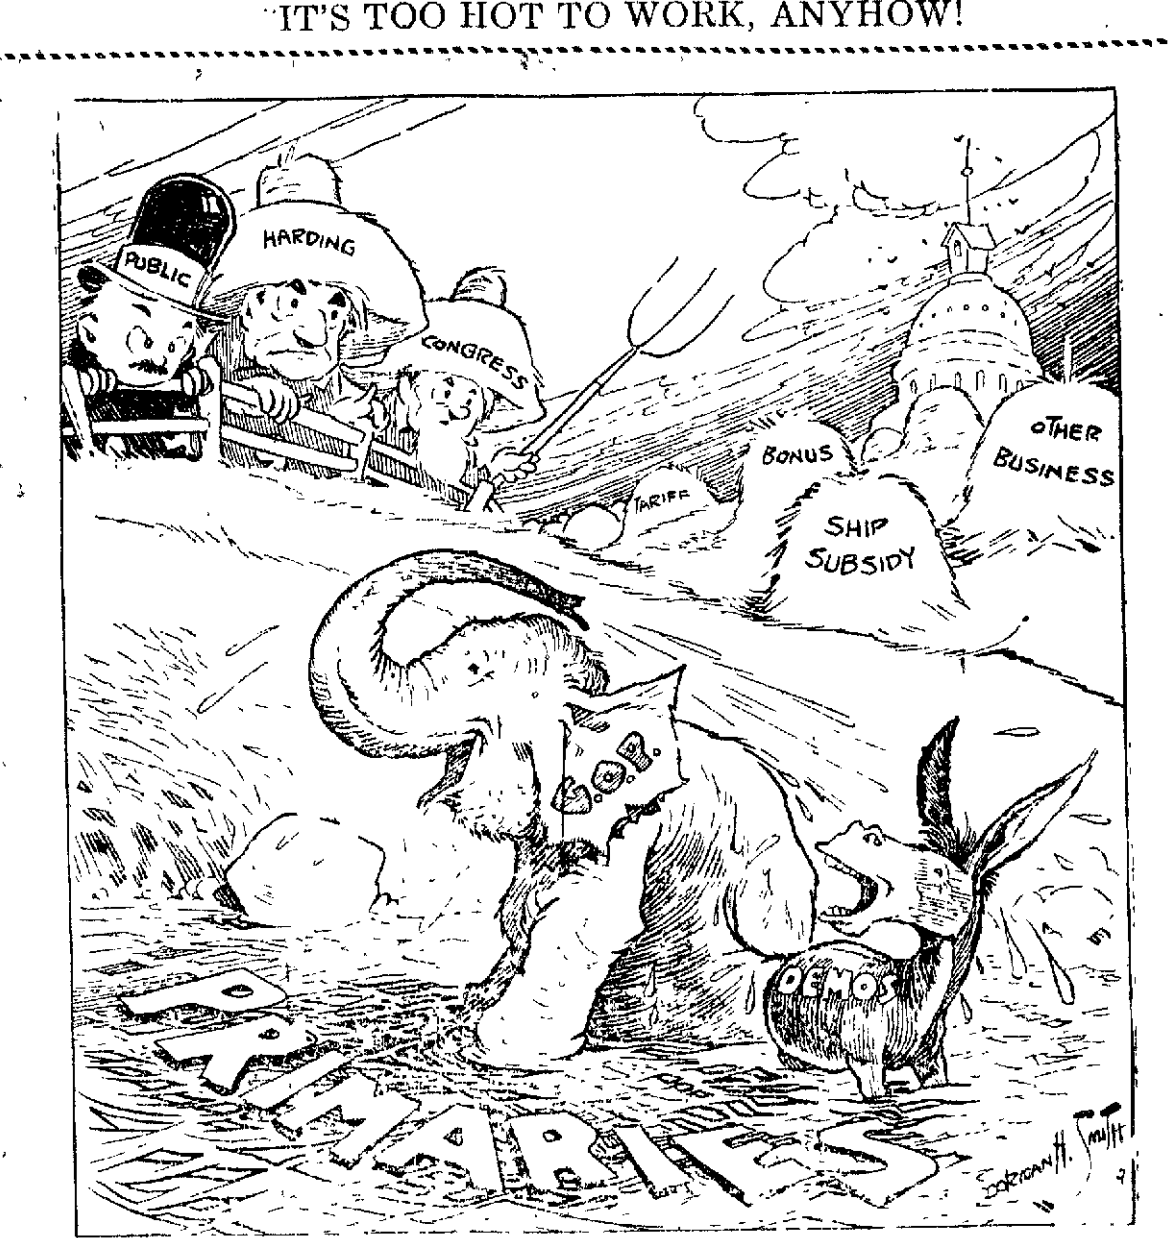

An immigration movement, which leaves Italy the only European country to send its quota to our shores, has presented a puzzle which the immigration commissioner and other students have not been able to solve. Anticipation of the framers of the new immigration law seem to have gone astray. Immigrants are no longer crowding the liners and fighting for a place in the land of promise as they once did. Reasons in explanation differ, but when all the answers are in, the condition remains.

Whatever the reason or reasons, the outflow for many months has about equaled arrivals, but the surprising fact is that immigration has fallen off almost to the vanishing point. The British quota of 15,000 has a surplus of slightly more than 13,000, and Germany sent only 910 to meet that country's privilege of 13,521. Arrivals from France, Scandinavia, Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia, former heavy contributors of new blood, are so few that they may be said to have stopped

G. Albert Stewart, Editor,
Clearfield Progress
Dear Sir:
The Penn-Central News is a labor paper circulating in all of District No. 2 and parts of the Pittsburgh and Hard Coal Districts.
The action of Governor Sprout in sending troops into the strike affected Districts has met with strong condemnation on the part of the miner's officials of this State. We have received inquiries concerning your views on this action of Governor Sprout.
We would be glad to have an expression from you. Do you approve or disapprove of Governor Sprout's action?
Yours truly,
PENN-CENTRAL NEWS
T. D. STILES, Editor

The Progress is glad to respond to your inquiry. The use of troops, constables or any armed body of men in strikes is undesirable and unfortunate. It is just as unfortunate and undesirable that there are in any sizable community, men who are easily inflamed and aroused to rash action, whose action must be curbed by lawful peace violence. So have we.

It is our understanding that the troops are there to keep these few in line with your officer's admonition to keep the peace and obey the authorities.

Read Governor Sprout's answer to Mr. Brophy again. We reprint it here with. It seems to us to be a good argument for the use of troops.

"Answering your telegrams, there is no desire or intention upon the part of the state authorities to interfere with or work any hardship upon well meaning citizens. However, I must reiterate my declaration that assemblages in neighborhoods where there is great public excitement are dangerous. An assemblage at Avella, Washington county, Pennsylvania, preceded the movement upon Clifton W. Va., which resulted in the killing of seven men and the injury of many more. An assemblage at Herrin, Ill. preceded the awful butchery there of more than a score of men in the most disgraceful instances of mob savagery in modern annals.
"No good citizen of Pennsylvania went to take any chances upon such events in this state and you and I cannot afford to do otherwise than to meet every power we possess to forestall such danger here. The question of meetings must be largely left to the discretion of the state and local authorities in the immediate vicinity who can best judge of the conditions prevailing. We shall support them in their decisions."

We further believe that the presence of the troops will prevent these noise makers from striking the match which may make another Herrin or another Clifton, and that the stamping out of such outrages, through the cooperation of the striking miners with the troops, will do much to prove to the public at large that the great mass of miners are peaceful and law abiding, statements to the contrary notwithstanding.

Naturally there is going to be unpleasantness. Neither miner or trooper, nor any other man for that matter, is going to piously "turn the other cheek" when epithets and names are hurled by thoughtless persons. Occasionally there is a trooper who thinks that the uniform adds a couple of hundred weight to his importance and he breeds trouble, but these are individual faults, and not the result of the purpose or intent of the state and national authorities in sending troops into the coal fields.
The Progress hopes that there will be no occasion for the P. N. G. to go into action and there should not be. No rule they have laid down, that we have heard of, in any manner jeopardizes the cause of the strikers, and we hope that at the end of the strike it may be said of the troops; "they were not needed."

The Census in 3800 B. C.

While priding ourselves upon our census system it may be well to remember that census taking it no new thing. The first count of British heads took place in 1801, after long opposition based on superstition. The Romans looked upon it as a regular institution. But it is now found that Babylonians took a census before 3800 B. C., which was perfected, and returns made by districts, in 2300 B. C. Fragments of the returns in the second dynasty of Ur are on tablets in the British Museum—From the Smithsonian.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The Literary Digest poll on the question of enforcement, non-enforcement and modification of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act appears to establish the fact there are a lot of fellows in the land who would prefer to see some "reduction downward" of the dry law, but have you noticed how many "wet" candidates for Congress, U. S. Senate and State Legislatures are falling outside the brush works as fast as the voters get a crack at them.

Judging by the report coming from every section of Clearfield County, that we need more than any other me thing just now is a few more Burgess Henry's scattered around and about our highway.

There is more improved road being built in Clearfield County just now than in any other county in Central Pennsylvania.

Clearfield County farmer's report about a 75 per cent apple crop for this year.

About ten per cent of all children have adenoids of a degree sufficient to interfere with free breathing through the nose.

Owing to their position and structure, adenoids do harm by sending poisonous material into the system when they are infected which is frequently the case, and by mechanically interfering with the free passage of air through the nose.

One of the best results of the growth of adenoids is mouth breathing. The air breathed in reaches the lungs in an unpurified, unwarmed and dry condition. The child cannot blow his nose properly, suffers from repeated colds, or is annoyed by chronic nasal catarrh.

The voice is affected, becoming hoarse and muffled. The child may have "night terrors." Snoring is induced and interferes greatly with the night rest because of the inability of the child to breathe freely while sleeping. On account of the development of the chronic nasal catarrh, adenoids may lead to the loss of the sense of smell.

Sometimes the disease spreads from the infection of the adenoids and causes inflammation of the inner ear and deafness. Children are often made intermittently deaf by congested and swollen adenoids. This condition is responsible for many street accidents. Since the inability to hear is not constant and the deafness occurs at times suddenly, the child fails to notice approaching vehicles and is injured.

Acting mechanically adenoids cause a broadening of the root of the nose and other unpleasant facial expression, such as a stupid look. The jaws and teeth are likely to become malformed, causing not only facial unsightliness but chronic indigestion and malnutrition.

In all cases of ear trouble, an examination should be made for adenoids.

"The Blues."

This phrase, descriptive of moods of depression or melancholy, has an interesting origin. It was formerly believed that working with indigo dyes caused fits of melancholy, as the chemical worked on the system through the skin. As the dyes were nearly always stained blue in parts of their bodies, the phrase came into current use to express low spirits or moodiness.

GOSHEN SPORTSMEN ENTERTAIN LADIES IN ROYAL FASHION

The members of the Goshen Rod and Gun Club entertained their wives and a few invited guests at the handsomely appointed club house on the 1186 acre hunting reserve at the foot of the mountains.

Sixty ypersons were present and enjoyed to the limit the elegant chicken dinner prepared and served by a committee of members composed of Hobart Callahan, Fred Wilson and Joe Chase. These excellent chefs had fed enough for a regiment prepared in a most appetizing manner, the excellence of the fare and service being very highly complimented by the women, who ought to know about those things. At the conclusion of the feast, the tables were cleared away and "Ole Bull" Herdman, the King fiddler of the upper reaches of the Moshannon unlimbered his fiddle. An old fashioned square dance was quickly to form and resulted in fast and furious fun for all hands for a couple of hours. Fred Wilson assisted the "old fiddler" by adding his barjo to the harmony, production.

It was a highly enjoyable occasion and added new laurels to the Goshen Club's already great reputation as entertainers.

The Eskimo is not particularly dainty about the cut of his meat. Paradoxically, does he seem to relish the tough stuff, such of the reindeer. This stomach full of finely chewed reindeer, he freezes solid and stores away, waiting for Doctor Marquis, until he is again hungry, when a piece is shared off, thawed out and eaten as a rare delicacy.

Current Business Conditions

By GEORGE E. ROBERTS

(From the Monthly Bulletin for August issued by The National City Bank of New York)

THE leading topics of interest in the past month have been the crops and the strikes. The wheat crop is fully as large as last year, the corn crop promises to be around 3,000,000,000 bushels and other food and feed crops are good. The amount of dairy products going into storage is larger than last year. Altogether, the cost of living so far as foodstuffs are concerned promises to be on about the same basis for the coming year as for the past. The cotton crop, however, is disappointing and likely to be short of the world's needs. The tendency of clothing materials is now upward, but manufacturing costs are slightly lower than last year.

The improvement in industry has proceeded so far that the amount of enforced unemployment is scarcely more than in any time of moderate prosperity, but the pending strikes have not only stopped the earnings of the strikers but are beginning to cause unemployment and losses in other quarters. President Harding has been active in his efforts to settle both the big strikes without harsh or unusual measures. He proposed for the coal industry that the miners return to work immediately at the scale of wages being paid when the strike began, this situation to last until a public commission, to be appointed by him, could render a decision upon wages; the commission upon making a thorough investigation of the industry, looking to the development of a permanent policy for the preservation of peace and wholesome working conditions. The miners rejected the proposal. The President has also made a proposal for the settlement of the railroad strike, but at this writing the outcome is undetermined.

With these strikes in industries that are vital to the public welfare out of the way, the outlook is good for fall business, although it cannot be said that a complete and equitable readjustment of wages and prices has taken place. Industrial costs, in which fuel and transportation are leading factors, are too high for the prices of farm products and raw materials generally, and a full measure of prosperity cannot be realized while this remains the case.

It goes without saying that the strikes are a very grave menace to the public welfare. The industries cannot run without coal and transportation service. Unless a settlement is reached, industries will close down, wages will stop for millions of people, food cannot be supplied to the cities, public utilities such as waterworks will be unable to function and society will be faced with a calamity even greater than war, because women and children will suffer as much as men.

It cannot be supposed that the strikers are indifferent to the suffering thus threatened, and which affects the families of all classes alike. They must assume that their opponents will give way in order to prevent it, but there is as much obligation to protect the community on one side as on the other. Every individual and group has a responsibility to society but society ought not to be dependent upon the grace of any minority. It must have the power to protect itself.

The Common Interest in Order

One of the first conditions of civilization is that there shall be orderly methods of settling differences as they arise between members of the community, according to principles based upon equity and the common interests, instead of allowing such issues to be fought out with fists or clubs or otherwise. The appeal to force has no place in civilized society except as society itself may discipline its unruly members.

It is a condition of every game in which rivals contend that there shall be rules and authority to enforce them and decide every question that arises. Abolish the umpire and the rules, and the game disappears. If you care for the game, support the authority that maintains it.

The trouble with the strikers in these cases is not that they contend for what they believe to be their rights, but that they refuse to recognize that other rights are involved, and that all rights are entitled to a hearing together and to adjudication in an orderly manner. Moreover, the matter of first importance is that there shall be a method of settlement that does not interfere with the common services necessary to society.

When it is affirmed that the public interest must be paramount, it does not follow that individual interests are sacrificed. On the contrary individual interests are protected by the maintenance of public order. That is illustrated by the regulation of traffic in the streets of a crowded city. The regulations are a restraint upon individual freedom in the streets, but everybody goes through the streets more freely because of them. What is included in the right to strike? The right to quit work in itself is not questioned. The President has said that the Government will compel no man to work against his will. But the activities of the union coal-miners and shopmen go far beyond the peaceful abandonment of their jobs in order to better themselves elsewhere. Their actions and language show that they are engaged in an organized effort to prevent the public from having coal or transportation except upon the conditions laid down by them. Combinations of that kind among any other class of people are against the law. Labor organizations were excepted for the purpose of giving them a stronger position in dealing with employers, but it never was contemplated that they would use this power to the serious injury of the public.

Railroad Labor Act

The statement is made that the railroad companies have set the example of refusing to be bound by the decisions of the Labor Board. The facts are that the companies have taken appeals in certain cases to the courts, on the legal ground that the Board had exceeded its jurisdiction under the law. This is a class of actions frequently brought against a new administrative body, to determine authoritatively the scope of its powers. The employees have the same right to bring such actions as the companies, and in neither event is transportation suspended by such an appeal.

The provisions of the Railroad Act, which give instructions relative to the action of the Board in settling wage disputes are as follows:

In determining the justness and reasonableness of such wages and salaries or working conditions the Board shall, so far as applicable, take into consideration among other relevant circumstances:

- (1) The scales of wages paid for similar kinds of work in other industries.
- (2) The relation between wages and the cost of living.
- (3) The hazards of the employment.
- (4) The training and skill required.
- (5) The degree of responsibility.
- (6) The character and regularity of the employment; and
- (7) Inequalities of increases in the wages or of treatment, the result of previous wage orders or adjustments.

Southern Railway Seeks Separate Peace

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—The conference between officials and union heads of the Southern Railway, called by the railroad with the hope of effecting a separate peace on the rail strike, has been postponed until Monday, it was announced here today. The peace negotiations scheduled to start today were put off, it was learned, upon request of union representatives who apparently wanted to await developments of President Harding's conference with Bert M. Jewell and William Johnson. The Southern Railway is offering to settle with the workers on the basis laid down by President Harding and rejected by the executives last Tuesday in New York.

—Another Guess—

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—President Harding, in his efforts to find a solution for the menacing rail strike, may suggest that the big obstacle, the question of seniority rights, be submitted to the Rail Labor Board for determination and that both executives and strikers abide by its decision. It was learned that the President has this plan under consideration and he may submit it to Bert M. Jewell, head of the shopmen, and William Johnson, head of the machinists, in conferences. Jewell, Johnson and Joseph Noonan, of the electrical workers, went into conference with President Harding at 11:30 A. M. It was announced that the Washington representatives of the big four brotherhoods had asked a conference with the President.

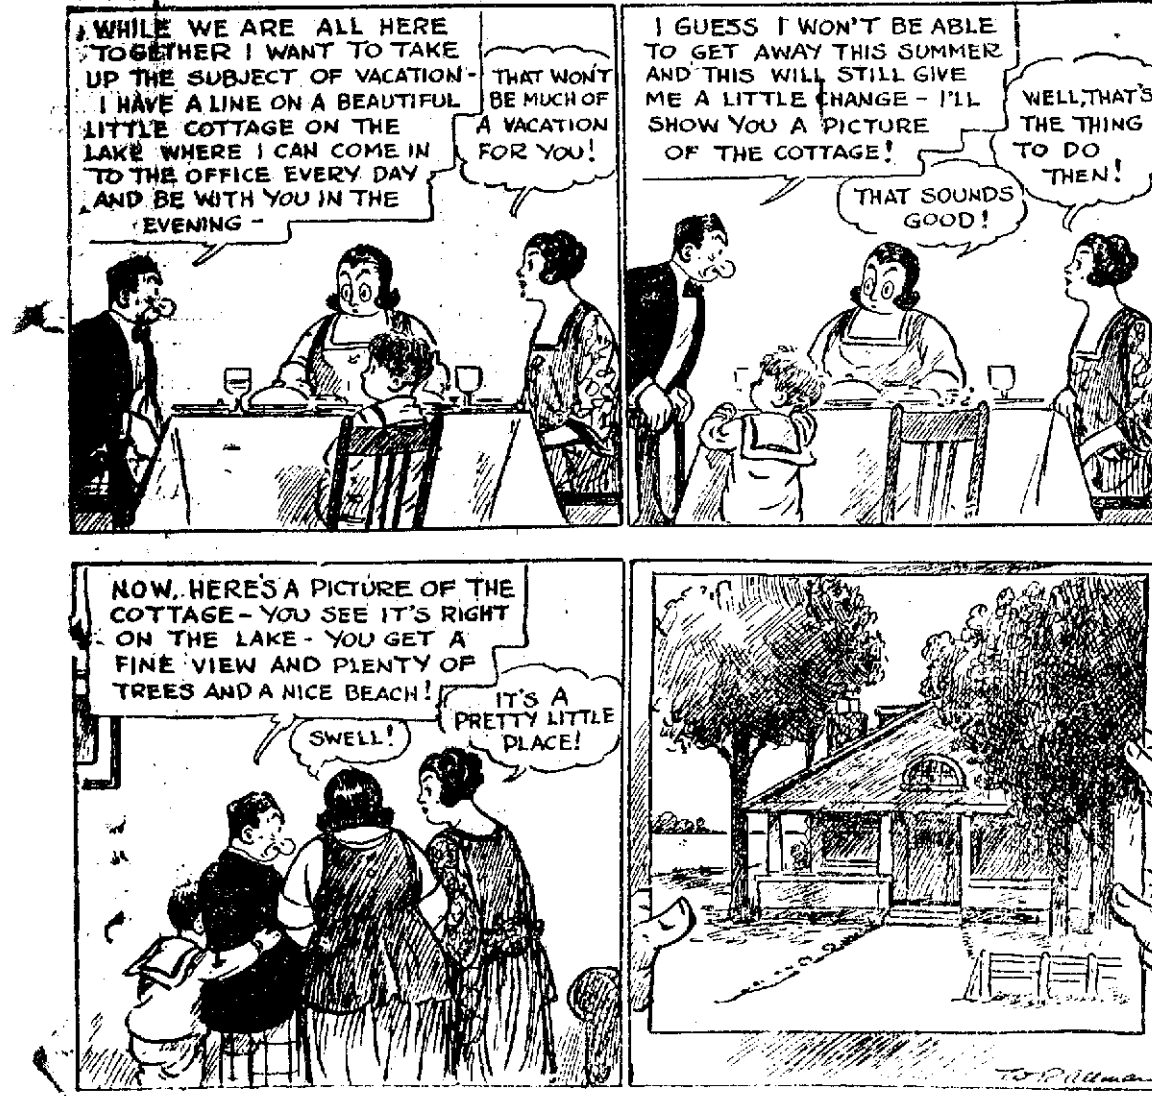

—Conferees Silent—

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—After talking three quarters of an hour with the President, Jewell and Johnson came out of the executive chambers. They declared President Harding had asked them to say nothing concerning the conference and they maintained strict silence. They may stay over in Washington until after the brotherhood representatives confer with the President this afternoon.

New York, Aug. 5.—Railroad stocks were in unprecedented demand throughout the two hours of trading on the New York Stock Exchange this morning. Chicago and Northwestern and St. Paul Common were among the stocks that reached new high ground for 1922. Corn products was also a strong issue. Financiers here believe the coal and rail strikes will both be settled next week. They are paying no attention to threats of sympathetic strikes. They believe that the strikers are beaten and claim that threats of sympathetic strikes are a usual development of waning strike situations. The Chicago street car strike has been settled as all recent strikes have been settled and the men will go back to work with a ten per cent reduction in wages.

MRS. HATFIELD SABINA, OHIO

In Pitiable Condition when she Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabina, Ohio.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and irregularity. I was weak and nervous and could hardly stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal. I was this way for about a year and had tried several medicines, but to no avail. My sister was taking your medicine and finally induced me to try it. I now feel fine and can do my housework without any trouble at all. You can use this letter for the sake of others if you wish."—Mrs. WELDON G. HATFIELD, R. R. 3, Sabina, Ohio.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble. Give it a fair trial. It surely helped Mrs. Hatfield, just as it has many, many other women.

The compensation for the postmaster at this office was $640 for the last fiscal year.

The examination is open to all citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

The Wicked Crow.

According to the opinion of the British Agricultural department, the crow must be classed as a criminal. In a biography of the bird, issued by the department, it says: "Its ability to commit such misdeeds as pulling corn and stealing eggs and fruit and to get away unscathed is little short of marvellous. Much of the crow's success in life is due to co-operation, and the social instinct of the species has its highest expression in the winter roosts, which are sometimes frequented by hundreds of thousands of crows. From these roosts daily flights of many miles are made in search of food. In its destruction of insects the crow often renders good service but its vicious habit of destroying beneficial wild birds and their eggs puts it on the black list."

BUICK LINE MORE COMPLETE THAN EVER

No single season in recent years has seen so many improvements in Buick cars as the present one; and never has the Buick line been so complete.

The engine, for example, is fitted with longer pistons and connecting rods, adding to the smoothness and long wear for which the Buick engine is noted. A new rear spring suspension has been devised which is undoubtedly the highest development of the cantilever type yet achieved. The frame, the transmission, the rear axle, the brakes, the bodies and their equipment, each shows the hand of the skilled designer by some new and valuable features.

The insurance companies have rated all fourteen models as Class "A" fire risks, because of the safety of their electrical and gasoline systems and have materially reduced the theft insurance rates. This means a big saving in insurance premiums over cars not so rated; it also indicates the close attention to detail that has been paid to these Buick cars for season of 1923.

As in the case of the six-cylinder models, the Buick four-cylinder cars have been re-designed this season, not merely in the sense of giving them a new appearance, but with the object of making them better and more efficient automobiles in every department of motoring service.

These changes begin with the frame, which has been entirely re-designed, and continue through the important mechanical units of the car, from an easier and simpler method of oiling the rocker arms to an improved method of driving the speedometer.

The body is larger and roomier, with lower lines and added grace of appearance. There are new and improved fenders, top, windshield, headlights, side curtains.

There is an improved spring suspension, new upholstery, improved dash arrangement of seats, longer and lower steering column, and a number of other features that add materially to riding and driving comfort.

There is a transmission lock to prevent theft which reduces insurance rates materially. Other improvements place the Buick Fours in Class "A" as fire insurance risks, securing for the owner lower insurance rates.

These are part, and only part, of the changes that apply to all four-cylinder models. Each model has its own special improvements, because each has been re-designed as a unit.

Misses Dorothy and Virginia Wilson are spending a few days at their uncle's, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Knapp of Philipsburg.

GIVE THE KIDDIES THE BEST MILK YOU CAN FIND

They deserve the best nutriment that you can find to give them, simply because you owe it to them to make their little bodies as strong and sturdy as you can. In after years they will rise up and call you blessed because you gave them a healthful start in life.

And what better milk could you give them than our milk? It comes from cows noted for their strongly nutritive milk and then it undergoes the pasteurization process. The combination of the two makes it one of the most healthful foods you can give your kiddies and you'll find that the kiddies brought up on our milk are husky, up-and-doing chaps.
